

New Balance 758 Review

I've been running for about 4 years now and I got to try several running shoes already.

I had tried a pair of NB running shoes in the past (and I was satisfied) before I got lucky to win this New balance 758 which the Bull Runner raffled off.

I liked the wide opening of the 758. It gave a lot of room for my wide feet to play inside since I am trying to run landing on my mid foot.

The only challenge I had doing the mid foot run was on the heel part of the sole. Since it is quite thick on that part, I have a little difficulty running on my mid foot. But I am beginning to find the sweet spot landing mid foot with that shoe.

Other than that, I liked the 758 so much. It's not really soft but the cushioning is fine with me. With my weight of 186 lbs, it gave good support on my landings.

I have run in this shoe for almost a month now. I have ran with it on my long run prior to the Dream Marathon of the Bull Runner, I ran with it on the Dream Marathon day, I used it during my short runs on weekdays and I can say that I am satisfied, I liked the comfortabilty and I can recommend using New balance 758 running shoes to anyone with the same need as myself.

By the way, I liked the looks as well compared with my old NB 845 shoes. I guess NB is also catching up on making the shoes look beautiful in addition to the great functionality it provides.

Thank you Bull Runner for giving me the opportunity to review this new pair of NB running shoes. More power to you and God Bless.

Regards,

Mart Cruz

2010/05/22 02:37